HOLLOWAY HILL

Holloway Hill is man made and was created when excavating gypsum. It is the lowest at the North Slope where the height is about 15m/50ft. From the top at the East Face the vertical distance into the pit is probably 35m/115ft. The top is flat and one can fly in all directions. The top is accessible by car. Some surfaces are soft but retrieval by foot or motorcycle is fairly easy.
